This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

THE Mercantile Library Association was formed November 27th, 1820, and obtained a Charter of Incorporation March 11th, 1823. In 1828 the Association solicited the merchants to aid in procuring a permanent location for its Library; which resulted in the incorporation of the Clinton Hall Association, and the erection, early in 1830, of a large and costly edifice. This Association has granted privileges to the Mercantile Library Association, calculated to establish it on a sure basis, and to ensure advancement to it, in future, equal, if not superior, to any similar institution in the country. The Mercantile Library Association has now free occupation of a Library-room, which will contain 20,000 volumes, with an extensive Reading-room attached; also a Lecture-room, sufficiently capacious for the accommodation of 1500 persons.

At four different periods Catalogues have been published. The first in 1821, at which time the library was composed of seven hundred volumes; the second in 1825, when the number of volumes was twenty-two hundred; the third in 1828, when the number amounted to forty-five hundred; and the fourth in 1830, at which time the number of volumes had increased to six thousand. Since 1830 there has been a much larger increase, and greater improvement, in works and editions. This has induced the Board of Direction to compile a Catalogue of the books of the Association, which, at this time, number but a few volumes less than ten thousand. This Catalogue is compiled on a different plan from those before published, is more complete, and the simplification of the Index and general arrangement will be found to facilitate the selection of any works that may be desired.

It shall meet at least once in each month, for the transaction of business; and at the annual meeting, report its proceedings for the past year, and the state of the concerns of the Association.

ART. 9. In case any vacancies shall occur in the Board of Direction, by death, resignation, removal, or inability to discharge the duties of their respective offices, the Board shall have power to fill such vacancies.

THIS AGREEMENT,

Between the Clinton Hall Association of the City of New-York, of the first part, and the Mercantile Library Association of New-York, of the second part, WITNESSETH:

That the party of the first part, being the owner of a building called Clinton Hall, situate on the corner of Beekman and Nassau-streets, in the city of New-York, do hereby stipulate and agree with the party of the second part as follows:—

1st. That the party of the second part may occupy, free of rent, two rooms in said building, which have been appropriated for a Library and Reading Room; and may use, when not wanted by the party of the first part, the room called the Trustees' and Directors' Room; and may also use the Lecture Hall for the general meetings of the Association, and for Lectures to be delivered to its members, as often as twice in each week: which privileges shall be enjoyed under such terms and conditions as are hereinafter expressed, and for as long a time as they are fulfilled to the satisfaction of the party of the first part. Additional room for the Library and Reading Room, and additional nights for the Lecture Hall, shall be set apart, if necessary, on the same conditions.

2d. That when the cost of erecting and fitting up said building, and the cost of the lots, with the accruing interest, shall have been paid, either by new subscriptions, by the rents of the building, or from any other source, the surplus funds arising from rents shall be laid out in such books, cabinets, or scientific apparatus as the party of the first part may deem proper; the said party reserving to itself the right to make earlier appropriations for those purposes. All such books, cabinets, or apparatus shall continue to belong to the party of the first part, and shall be deposited in the building, and be used by the members of the Clinton Hall and Mercantile Library Associations, under such regulations as may be made by the parties of the first part for that purpose.

And the party of the second part doth hereby stipulate and agree with the party of the first part as follows:

1st. That its Library shall be deposited in the room or rooms of said building appropriated to receive it; that the room or rooms set apart as Reading rooms shall be used by its members for that purpose; and that the Lecture Hall shall be used for the general meetings of the Association, and for the Lectures which are delivered to its members.

2d. That during the continuance of this agreement, it will pay the taxes on said building, if any are imposed; and will, at its own cost, keep the rooms it occupies in full and complete repair, and defray such proportion of the expenses of lighting and warming the house as may be fair and equitable.

3d. That the whole income of the party of the second part, after defraying the necessary charges of the establishment (not including the expense of Lectures), shall be annually invested in books, which shall be deposited in the Library with its other books, and the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association shall have access to the library free of charge, under the same regulations as the members of the Mercantile Library Association are subjected to, without giving to such shareholders a right to vote in the elections of that Association.

4th. That in case the Trustees of the Clinton Hall Association shall be of opinion that the party of the second part shall convert the rooms it occupies in the said building to any purpose not intended by the party of the first part, or that the character of the Mercantile Library Association shall have become so changed that its usefulness shall have ceased, or that it shall have deposited immoral or irreligious books in its library, and not removed them within twenty days after being advised to do so by the Trustees of the Clinton Hall Association—or that they shall have wilfully neglected or violated any of the stipulations contained in this agreement—then the said Trustees may call a meeting of the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association, and the Directors of the Mercantile Library Association, and lay before the meeting the facts, to show that either of these contingences has occurred; and the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association, after a full consideration, may determine to resume the use and occupation of the rooms so appropriated, and the books, cabinets, and apparatus purchased by the party of the first part; and such determination shall be final and conclusive on the party of the second part, who shall thereupon surrender and give up the premises and the said books, cabinets, and apparatus to the party of the first part, and shall remove from said building after thirty days' notice of such determination.

5th. That the shareholders of the Clinton Hall Association may attend the course of Lectures which may be delivered to the Mercantile Library Association on the same terms as are enjoyed by its members.

In witness whereof, the said parties have respectfully caused their corporate seals to be hereunto affixed, and these presents to be signed by their respective Presidents, the second day of November, one thousand eight hundred and thirty.
